

I am Krishna Tunga, a cricket analyst, living in Mumbai, India. I am the founder and creator of www.allthatcricket.com. I have worked for international cricket teams, and also with the media to analyse performance and explore winning behaviours. I have spent the last twenty years developing my skills as an observer and analyst of performance. During this time I have directed my own learning and acquired expertise in data acquisition, management and analysis.

On www.coachtube.com i teach the basics of cricket. All 3 skills, batting, bowling and fielding. I would be more than happy to assist coaches, in any capacity. I am honored to get this opportunity on Coach tube
